

I understand

1. I bring items to be repaired at my own risk.
All repairs are free of charge and carried out by unpaid volunteers. Neither the organisers of the Repair Café nor the repairers can be held responsible if the item can't be repaired, the repair doesn't last, or the item is accidentally damaged in the course of the attempted repair.
2. Repairers may choose not to attempt to repair my item.
This could be for safety or any other reason. Sometimes a professional repair service is needed. If we can, we'll suggest a local provider.
3. Repairers may take my item apart and not put it back together again.
For example if the item is unsafe or broken beyond repair.
4. If batteries, leads, plugs, fuses, zips or other 'consumables' are needed, I need to provide them.
If we have them in stock, you can buy them from the Repair Café
5. I have to stay with the repairer while my repair is being carried out.
If you can work with the repairer and pick up new skills, that's even better!
6. I have to take my item away with me when I leave.
Even if it's not been possible to fix it.
7. I can book only one item into the Repair Café. If I bring a second or third item, they will be looked at if repairers have time, but I will have to go to the back of the queue if there is one.
8. If I've brought children with me, I'm responsible for their behaviour and safety.
9. I may be asked by an organiser to have a photo or video taken for publicity.
We will always ask your permission and explain where they will be used. You can withdraw your permission at any time in the future by contacting the organiser.
